COMPLEMENTARY FEEDING IN THE SADC REGION

SADC/16/4/2/3 I

1. BACKGROUND

SADC is a regional economic development community comprising 16 Member States in the Southern African and Indian Ocean region. Its overall goal is to promote and achieve equitable and sustainable development, through increased regional integration underpinned by an environment of peace, security and regional stability. The region's development policies and priorities are defined in the Revised Regional Indicative Strategic Development Plan (RISDP).

In line with the Revised RISDP there are several sectoral policies and strategies including the SADC Regional Agricultural Policy which was adopted by SADC Council in 2016. The operationalization of the 2016 Regional Agricultural Policy is being funded by the European Union through a Financing Agreement with SADC. The RAP supports implementation of the SADC Food and Nutrition Security Strategy (2015-2025) which foresees improvements in utilisation of nutritious, healthy, diverse and safe food for consumption and adequate biological and social environment with proper health care. The Strategy outlines different strategies and approaches which are aimed to reduce the rates of malnutrition in the region.

Exclusive breastfeeding contributes to an average 10.8 percent reduction in child mortality while promotion of complementary feeding contributes to the reduction in stunting by 18.5 percent on average (Bhuttal et al. 2008). Despite this recognition, only 38 percent of infants in the SADC region are exclusively breastfed during the first six months of life. Complementary feeding frequently begins too early or too late, with 72 percent introducing solids, semi solids or soft foods between 6-8 months of age. In addition, complementary foods often lack diversity, are unsafe and given infrequently. Childhood overweight and obesity have been increasing in many member states.

2. PURPOSE OF THE CONSULTANCY

The overall purpose of the consultancy is to conduct formative assessment on complementary feeding trends including underlying behavioral, socio-cultural and structural factors contributing to infant and young child feeding in the region.

3. SCOPE OF WORK

The formative assessment will entail a desk review of current barriers, best practices, facilitators, and policies that influence diets of children 6-23 months.

The selected consultant will work with the SADC secretariat and key stakeholders in selected Member States to undertake the review and conduct key informant interviews to produce a regional analysis with recommendations on approaches for improving the diets of young children. The findings of the assessment will inform the development of the regional SBCC strategy/framework that Member States can adapt based on their country context.

3.1. Description of tasks

To accomplish the above scope of work, the Consultant will carry out the following tasks:

- a) Develop and submit an inception report in line with the Terms of Reference that includes the concept/approach to the assignment, data collection instruments, main deliverables and timelines.
- b) Conduct secondary analysis on the factors that influence complementary feeding in the SADC region.
 - Desk review of quantitative and qualitative findings from National Nutrition surveys, MICS, DHS and other relevant literature and reports to provide an in-depth understanding of the barriers, best practices and facilitators to appropriate complementary feeding in the 16 Member States within the SADC region.
 - Identify regional and international examples of effective and best practices on social behaviour change communication interventions to care givers for improved complementary feeding practices.
 - Identify primary child caregivers and key decision makers related to child feeding and key factors that influence their decision making around child feeding.
 - Identify key challenges in achieving behavioral goals on Infant and young child feeding (IYCF) and why current strategies are struggling to achieve and sustain behavioral results.
 - Examine and compare sociocultural and economic factors that affect feeding practices.
 - Availability of local complementary foods and diets across multiple delivery systems including food systems (including private sector), health systems, community systems and social protection systems. Use existing data to understand the current nutrient gaps, cost of diets and barriers to accessing appropriate complementary foods.
- c) Conduct key informant interviews in selected Member States.
 - Based on the desk review findings, conduct key informant interviews with key stakeholders in four selected Member States; including primary caregivers, influencers in the communities and government/health worker representatives as required to seek clarification and additional information on sociocultural and economic factors that affect complementary feeding practices.
- d) Compile draft report and in consultation with SADC Secretariat disseminate the draft report to key stakeholders including the Member States and ICPs for review.
 - Discuss with key stakeholders the findings and recommendations of the formative assessments.
 - Agree on priority areas for behaviour change communication on complementary feeding and develop recommendations on how to address major barriers and gaps.
 - Identify key top liner messages to improving complementary feeding based on the country contexts.

- Agree on precise, specific and measurable behavioral objectives, and identifying whose behaviors needs to be changed to bring about the desired IYCF outcomes.
- Agree on outline/components to be considered for inclusion in the regional SBCC strategy for improved infant young child nutrition.
