SOUTHERN AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY
TOWARDS A COMMON FUTURE

MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCES
Our heartfelt condolences to the Mugabe family, Government and people of Zimbabwe, on the passing of Former President Robert Gabriel Mugabe. SADC will always remember President Mugabe as an icon and son of Africa who, through fighting tirelessly and selflessly, liberated Zimbabwe. He believed and struggled for total liberation of southern Africa. His immense contribution to SADC integration will be cherished forever. While grieving his death, we need to celebrate his life and achievements attained both nationally and regionally.

His Excellency Dr. John Pombe Joseph Magufuli, the President of the United Republic of Tanzania hosted the 39th Ordinary Summit of SADC Heads of State and Government in Dar es Salaam, on 17 August 2019, and pledged to prioritize boosting industrialization in the region during his tenure as the Chairperson of SADC.

H.E President Dr Magufuli assumed the Chairpersonship of SADC on 17th August 2019, taking over from H.E President Dr Hage G. Geingob of Namibia, who was the SADC Chairperson from August 17, 2018. In his acceptance speech, the new SADC Chairperson urged Member States to work together to improve the business environment in the region by addressing all impediments and bottlenecks, including transit delays, bureaucratic red-tape and corruption that hinder the growth of the industrial sector, and to develop their industries, and trade more with each other to ensure that the region fully benefits from its resources.

H.E. President Dr Magufuli said the low level of industrialization in the SADC region was the biggest challenge to the region’s efforts towards economic emancipation. He cited the lack of information on the opportunities available in the respective Member States; differences in trade and investment policies, laws, regulations and standards as some of the other challenges hindering businesses and economic cooperation between and among SADC Member States and, thus, affecting the region’s economic performance.

In this regard, the SADC Chairperson called for acceleration of processes to harmonize policies, laws, regulations and quality standards so that the region can be able to increase the volume and value of intra and extra regional trade. H.E. President Dr Magufuli said that the United Republic of Tanzania chose “A Conducive Business Environment for Inclusive and Sustainable Industrial Development, Increased Intra-Regional Trade and Job Creation” to be the theme of the SADC region during his chairpersonship with the hope that the implementation of this theme will serve as a catalyst for sustainable industrial development, increased intra-regional trade and job creation in the region.

The new SADC Chairperson highlighted that the SADC region is not poor and urged the Member States to use their vast resources to generate wealth. “Our countries are not poor. We have all the resources to make us rich,” he said, adding that SADC has vast natural resources including fertile land, minerals and wildlife, in addition to human resources. “We must therefore work together to ensure that we utilize and exploit these resources for the benefit of our countries and people. This is important because it is only through cooperation that we will be able to utilise these resources effectively and achieve our objectives.”

The SADC region has a combined Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of US$ 607 billion, and a total population of approximately 327 million of which 75 percent are youth, under the age of 35. The 39th SADC Summit which was held at Julius Nyerere International Convention Centre in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania, on the 17th and 18th August 2019, was attended by Heads of State and Government of SADC, or their representatives.

The Heads of State and Government of SADC, or their representatives included; H.E President João Manuel Gonçalves Lourenço of Angola; H.E President Colonel Azali Assoumani of the Union of Comoros; H.E President Félix Antoine Tsisekedi Tshilombo of the Democratic Republic of Congo; H.E President Andry Rajoelina of Madagascar; H.E President Felipe Jacinto Nyusi of Mozambique; H.E President Dr Hage G. Geingob of Namibia; H.E President Danny Faure of Seychelles; H.E President Cyril Ramaphosa of South Africa; H.E President Edgar Chagwa Lungu of Zambia; H.E President Emmerson Dambudzo Mnangagwa of Zimbabwe;
SADC must continue to enhance youth participation in policy formulation

By Barbara Lopi

The Heads of State and Government of SADC must continue to enhance youth participation in policy formulation and to develop programmes that improve the lives of young people in the entire SADC region.

This was a call made by H.E Dr Hage G. Geingob, the President of the Republic of Namibia, and outgoing Chairperson of SADC in his handover speech during the 39th SADC Summit in Dar es Salaam in the United Republic of Tanzania. The outgoing SADC Chairperson emphasized that the full realisation of SADC's Vision and Mission are hinged on deliberate and coordinated efforts to accelerate social development that prioritises youth development and empowerment. He highlighted that the region has an active young population two-thirds of which are below the age of 35, thereby presenting opportunities for the fortunes of the region to be drastically transformed into greater economic growth and prosperity.

H.E President Dr Geingob noted that while youths actively contribute as political actors, innovators, entrepreneurs and peace builders, they continued to face disproportionate social, economic and political barriers, which prevented them from unleashing their full potential and meaningfully contributing to Sustainable Development.

He said unemployment, underemployment, lack of skills and access to capital, resulted in youth experiencing social and political challenges such as conscription into armed rebellions and exposure to drug use and risky behaviour. "Additionally, our youth continue to migrate within the continent as well as abroad, in search of greener pastures, making them vulnerable to exploitation, extreme abuse and mistreatment among other things", he added. During his tenure as the Chair of SADC, H.E Geingob steered the region to focus on the theme of “Promoting Infrastructure Development and Youth Empowerment for Sustainable Development”, across all sectors with emphasis on youth engagement. H.E President Dr Geingob remarked that the theme gave the region impetus for the full implementation of the SADC Declaration on Youth Development and Empowerment adopted by Heads of State and Government in August 2015. He highlighted the following, as some of the key initiatives implemented to operationalize the theme:

- A youth coordination structure was established for Water, Energy and Food Security (WEFS) Nexus Infrastructure Project.
- A SADC Framework for Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting (MER) on youth programmes, among others, at national level was established to facilitate evidence based youth policy development and implementation.
- A Conceptual Framework for the implementation of SADC Regional Programme on Youth Innovation and Entrepreneurship aimed at ensuring sustainability of the 38th Summit theme was also developed.
- The High-level roundtable was conducted with a theme, “Upscaling Sustainable Energy for the Industrialisation Agenda and Youth Empowerment for the SADC Region”.

Former President of the United Republic of Tanzania, H.E. Benjamin William Mkapa says the Southern African Development Community (SADC) has a lot of successes to be proud of and that the region must not shy away from celebrating its collective achievements inspired by its common history.

The former President said this in his keynote address at the SADC Public Lecture on ‘Deepening Integration in SADC: Achievements, Challenges and Opportunities’ held on 15th August, 2019 at the Library Auditorium of the University of Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania. The Public Lecture, which was jointly organised by the SADC Secretariat, Tanzania’s Ministry of Foreign Affairs and East African Cooperation, Uongozi Institute and the University of Dar es Salaam, to stimulate discussion on regional integration ahead of the 39th SADC Summit and ahead of the 39th SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government hosted in Dar es Salaam, highlighted SADC’s key achievements, challenges hindering the deepening of integration in SADC, and ways to overcome them, among others.

H.E. Mkapa called on the SADC governments to seek smart partnerships with the private sector and increase the region’s productivity in the manufacturing and labour sectors, especially in the agro-industry and processing sectors. He added that “with the right policies and incentives, we can establish our countries as attractive destinations for win-win investment alliances”.

H.E. Mkapa, who was President of Tanzania from 1995 to 2005, and chaired SADC in 2003/04, said investment in education and infrastructure development, as well as curbing the illicit financial flows out of Africa, are critical in ensuring that SADC achieves its longstanding vision of a united, integrated and prosperous region.

He highlighted that the SADC region has the capacity to be self-sufficient through its natural resources as well as a vibrant and skilled human capital. “We are endowed with vast natural resources that offer vast potential for unleashing growth and development for our region, however, it is critical for SADC to come up with new and innovative strategies to ensure that it adds value to its resources before exporting and ensure that the resources bring tangible benefit to our people and countries,” the former President said.

Dr. Simba Makoni, a former Executive Secretary of SADC, who was one of the panelists at the Lecture, said SADC must use its abundant natural resources properly, and accelerate the pace towards industrialization and aim towards being self-reliant.

Dr. Makoni expressed that self-reliance is pivotal not only for the governments and government institutions but also for the people. Prof. Anthoini van Nieuwkerk, a Security Studies Coordinator at the Wits School of Governance in South Africa, emphasized the importance of peace and security towards a more prosperous integration.

“Indeed, the African Union and SADC have developed sophisticated policy frameworks and strategies to deal with democracy promotion and threats to security, such as African Peace Security Architecture (APSA), the African Governance Architecture (AGA) and Strategic Indicative Plan for the Organ (SIPO),” noted Prof. Nieuwkerk.

Mr. Gilead Teri, Program Lead for Tanzania Investment Climate, World Bank Group in Tanzania, said that in order to enable the private sector to fulfil its integration role, four key aspects needed to be addressed: Infrastructure, Skills/Quality of Employment, Finance, and Fairness. Mr. Teri added that in order for the region to fund its development projects and provide credit and soft loans for businesses, it must move away from relying heavily on Foreign Direct Investment, and improve domestic saving mechanisms as well as the quality of labour to match the demand of the private sector.

In her opening remarks to the Public Lecture, the SADC Executive Secretary, H.E. Dr. Stergomena Lawrence Tax, called upon all regional stakeholders to re dedicate their efforts to SADC and to the ideals of regional body’s founders. “Together we can facilitate SADC integration, unity and shared values for the prosperity and lasting peace for the region,” she said.

SADC has a lot of successes to be proud of

Hon. Netumbo Nandi-Ndaitwah, the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for International Relations and Cooperation of Namibia, cited the region's identification of potential value chains which have a specific focus on a combination of how individual and regional strengths can be leveraged for optimal benefits from both regional and global value chains as one of SADC's Key success, and added that “this approach specifically allows us to profile the sectors in each country and develop the strategies for value addition, beneficiation and down-stream processing. It also allows us to have a vested interest in promoting investment in regional projects, as we are able to reap the collective benefits for all the people in our region”.

Commenting on the region's commitment to gender equality, Hon. Nandi-Ndaitwah said that while the SADC has made good progress in the area of women empowerment, thereby enabling women to play a role both in the political and economic field, gender equality was not fully realized. She urged the SADC governments to have more programmes focusing on women and the youth as they continue to harmonise legislative and policy frameworks, to create opportunities for citizens and create an environment that enables easier transactions and facilitates intraregional investment.

SADC Secretariat Monthly Newsletter Issue 8, August 2019
SADC launches five publications related to gender, infrastructure and energy

By Innocent Mbvundula & Letso S. Mpho

On 13 August, 2019, ahead of the 39th SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government, in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania, the Southern African Development Community (SADC) launched five publications associated with gender, infrastructure and energy.

The publications are: SADC Energy Monitor 2018; the SADC Gender and Development Monitor 2018; the SADC Regional Strategy on Women, Peace and Security (2018-2022); the SADC Regional Strategy and Framework of Action for Addressing Gender-Based Violence (2018-2030); and the SADC Regional Infrastructure Development- Short Term Plan Assessment 2019.

Launching the publications, the SADC Executive Secretary Her Excellency Dr. Stergomena Lawrence Tax acknowledged the power of information as a tool that enables citizens to make informed decisions. H.E. Dr Tax called upon the media and stakeholders to widely share the information in the publications for the benefit of SADC citizens. The SADC Executive Secretary said, considering that women, men, boys and girls have different needs and experiences, and are affected differently by conflict and post-conflict situations, all efforts towards resolving conflict and post-conflict situations require that gender perspectives are fully integrated as reflected in the Strategy on Women, Peace and Security.

On his part, the Executive Director of the Southern African Research and Documentation Centre (SARDC), Mr. Munetsi Madakufamba said SARDC is proud to be a longstanding Knowledge Partner of the SADC Secretariat, supporting the process of SADC regional integration, through, among other strategies, building of a more open and inclusive economy.

Mr. Madakufamba said the launch of the publications demonstrates the strength of SARDC’s partnership with SADC Secretariat in assisting the region to understand crucial issues affecting the SADC region that have been documented in the publications.

The publication SADC Regional Infrastructure Development Short Term Plan Assessment (2019) gives an assessment of the results achieved in the implementation of the SADC Regional Infrastructure Development Master Plan (RIDMP) Short Term Action Plan (2012-2017). The SADC Energy Monitor (2018) provides an overview and analysis of the energy situation in the SADC region, and progress made towards implementation of various SADC energy policies and projects. The SADC Gender and Development Monitor (2018) focuses on the provisions of the Protocol on Gender and Development, in particular those on economic empowerment and gender responsive budgeting, while the SADC Regional Strategy on Women, Peace and Security provides an overarching framework to guide implementation, monitoring, evaluation and reporting on mainstreaming gender into peace and security in the region.

Finally, the SADC Regional Strategy and Framework of Action for Addressing Gender-Based Violence (GBV) (2018-2030) recognises that GBV remains a serious impediment towards achieving national, regional, continental and global development goals and it seeks to stimulate regional actions and interventions for harmonising their respective GBV response efforts of all SADC Member States. The launch of the publications was attended by the Minister of Health, Community Development, Gender, Elderly and Children of the United Republic of Tanzania, Hon. Ummy Mwalimu and the Minister of Energy of the United Republic of Tanzania, Hon. Medard Kalemani, both of whom hailed the launch of the publications as critical in addressing infrastructure and energy shortfalls as well as addressing issues of gender-based violence, while promoting gender equality and women economic empowerment in the SADC region.

The publications were produced in partnership and support from SARDC, the United Nations Department of Political Affairs (UNDPA), UN Women, European Union (EU), Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC), the Development Bank of Southern Africa (DBSA) and the Embassy of Ireland in South Africa.
SADC calls for immediate lifting of sanctions on Zimbabwe, declares 25 Oct to express disapproval of the sanction

By Barbara Lopi

The Southern African Development Community (SADC) has maintained that the economic sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe are hurting the entire southern African region and hence the economic bloc will embark on a campaign to speak with one voice until the sanctions are lifted.

The Heads of State and Government of the SADC have declared the 25th of October 2019 as the day of Solidarity to lift the Illegal sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe. The SADC Member States are urged to collectively voice their disapproval of the sanctions through various activities and platforms until the sanctions are lifted.

In a communiqué released at the end of the 39th Ordinary Summit of the Heads of State and Government of SADC, the Summit noted the adverse impact on the economy of Zimbabwe and the region at large, of prolonged economic sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe, and expressed solidarity with Zimbabwe, and called for the immediate lifting of the sanctions to facilitate socio-economic recovery in the country.

The Chairperson of SADC, His Excellency Dr. John Pombe Joseph Magufuli, the President of the United Republic of Tanzania will among others include the removal of sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe in their statements to be delivered to the United Nations General Assembly to emphasise the SADC position, and to engage with the countries and International Cooperating Partners which have imposed sanctions and call for the removal of the sanctions.

In his acceptance speech as the SADC Chairperson, President Magufuli said SADC Member States should stand together to ensure sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe are removed, as the sanctions did not only affect the people of Zimbabwe and their government, but the entire region. “It is like a human body, when you chop one of its parts, it affects the whole body. Therefore, I would like to seize this opportunity to urge the international community to lift sanctions it imposed on Zimbabwe”, the SADC Chairperson said.

University of Dar es Salaam honours SADC Executive Secretary

The University of Dar es Salaam in the United Republic of Tanzania honoured the Executive Secretary of SADC, H.E. Dr Stergomena Lawrence Tax as the Alumni of the Month of August. In a tweet, the SADC Executive Secretary said she was humbled by the honour.

In 1988, H.E. Dr Tax entered the Faculty of Commerce at the University of Dar es Salaam for her undergraduate studies in commerce, specialising in Finance and allied areas, graduating in 1991 with honors in Finance. In her career, H.E. Dr Tax served in senior level portfolios in the Government of the United Republic of Tanzania before her appointment in 2013, as the sixth and the first-ever female Executive Secretary of SADC.
SADC Executive Secretary calls for intensified efforts in promoting macro-economic stability

By Barbara Lopi

The Executive Secretary of SADC, H.E Dr Stergomena Lawrence Tax says the region needs to intensify efforts in promoting macro-economic stability in order to win business confidence, ensure predictability in the economies, and reach the regional economic targets.

H.E. Dr Tax said in her remarks to the 39th SADC Summit that, while the general economic environment in the SADC region has been relatively stable with an economic growth of 3.1 percent in 2018 compared to a growth of 3 percent in 2017, the region experienced slow growth of the manufacturing sector and that intra-SADC trade remained low. The SADC Executive Secretary said that Intra-SADC imports declined from 21.5 percent in 2016/2017 to 20.6 percent in 2017/2018, while intra-SADC exports declined from 24.7 percent to 22.4 percent over the same period. H.E. Dr Tax said that the per capita Gross Domestic Product (GDP) for the region improved slightly from US$4,004 in 2017 to US$4,171 in 2018, while all Member States, except one, recorded positive growth in per capita GDP in 2018. Furthermore, the annual inflation rate decreased to an average of 8.0 percent in 2018 from 10.1 percent in 2017, with the slowdown in inflation associated with, among others, favourable weather conditions in some Member States, low demand pressure, and stability in exchange rates.

Ten out of the 16 Member States, Botswana, Eswatini, Lesotho, Madagascar, Mauritius, Mozambique, Namibia, Seychelles, South Africa and Tanzania met the region’s inflation target range of 3-7 percent. The SADC Executive Secretary revealed that a downward curve in investments and savings, registered since 2014, continued in 2018 with the region recording investments of 22.8 percent of GDP in 2018 compared to 24.4 percent in 2017. Five Member States, Botswana, Lesotho, Seychelles, Tanzania and Zambia performed above the regional target of 30 percent of GDP for investment. On the savings side, the region remained subdued at 19.9 percent of GDP in 2018, lower than the 20.6 percent realised in 2017. Only Botswana, Mozambique and Zambia attained the regional savings target of 30 percent in 2018.

The fiscal deficit averaged at 3.1 percent in 2018 compared to 4.3 percent of GDP in 2017. Angola, DRC, Mauritius, Seychelles and Tanzania met the fiscal deficit target of three (3) percent of GDP in 2018. On Public debt, the region maintained an upward trend across all Member States in 2018, where the region’s public debt increased to 48.8 percent of GDP, slightly above the 47.8 percent recorded in 2017. The number of Member States that met the fiscal target of public debt of 60 percent of GDP remained constant at 11 in both 2017 and 2018.

The growth rate of the manufacturing sector remained slow, with the sector growing by 4.3 percent in 2018 as compared to 4.6 percent in 2017, and the share of the manufacturing sector value added (MVA) to overall GDP for the SADC region increasing to 11.9 percent in 2018, slightly up from 11.5 percent and 11.2 percent in 2016 and 2017 respectively. H.E. Dr Tax said, “this is a matter of concern, considering that we are far from attaining the targets that we set for ourselves. As one of the targets outlined in the Industrialisation Strategy (2015-2063), we committed to increase the share of manufacturing value added (MVA) in GDP to 20 percent by 2020 and 40 percent by 2050. We are only left with a few months before 2020”.

SADC adopts Kiswahili as the Fourth SADC Official Working Language

By Letso S. Mpho

During its meeting held in Dar es Salaam, in the United Republic of Tanzania on 17th August 2019, the SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government adopted Kiswahili as the fourth SADC official working language, in addition to English, French and Portuguese.

Summit approved Kiswahili as the Fourth SADC Official Working Language, following a proposal by the United Republic of Tanzania, in recognition of its contribution and the contribution made by the Former President of Tanzania, Mwalimu Julius Kambarage Nyerere in the liberation struggle of Southern Africa.

In approving Kiswahili, the SADC Heads of State and Government noted that Kiswahili was among the fastest growing languages, one of the tenth widely spoken languages in the world, and an official language in the African Union and Pan African Parliament. Spoken in some parts of central and southern Africa, Kiswahili language has historical roots and value to SADC as it was the unifying language used during the liberation struggle of Southern Africa. Kiswahili is the most broadcast African language, featuring in a number of international radio stations and taught as a course or programme in many universities in Africa, America, Asia and Europe and in SADC Member States.

In endorsing the use of Kiswahili, the Summit adopted a gradual approach by first using Kiswahili as a language for oral communication for SADC Summit and Council meetings and will eventually be adopted for written official communication. The adoption of Kiswahili as a language of oral communication entails that only Summit and Council meetings will require interpretation facilities for Kiswahili.

Southern Africa has put in place various measures aimed at advancing regional integration. The measures are contained in a communique released soon after the 39th Southern African Development Community (SADC) Summit held in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania on 17-18 August.

The development of an industrialization strategy and roadmap was in realization that most SADC Member States continue to be among the poorest in the world despite abundant natural resources as the majority of them export these in their raw or unprocessed form. As such, the Summit urged member states to redouble their efforts in implementing the industrialization strategy to ensure sustainable development since no country or region in the world has ever developed without undergoing the process of industrialization.

“Summit noted with great concern the slow growth in the intra-SADC trade levels, and that the region continues to export unprocessed raw material to the rest of the world, thereby forfeiting the potential benefits of the resource endowments,” reads of the communique. “To this effect, Summit agreed to accelerate the implementation of the industrialization strategy.” Industrialization is a priority for SADC and since 2014, successive regional meetings have focused on how SADC could industrialize its economy. With respect to the food security situation in the region, SADC agreed to work together in assisting affected populations with food supplies as well as providing emergency livestock supplementary feeding to save livestock, and importing grain to supplement reduced yields. On the proposed transformation of the SADC Parliamentary Forum into a regional parliament, the summit “directed the SADC Secretariat in collaboration with the Parliamentary Forum Secretariat to develop the model that the proposed SADC Parliament would assume, in terms of mandate, powers and functions; and to develop a Roadmap towards the transformation of the SADC Parliamentary Forum into a SADC Parliament.”

The proposed establishment of the SADC Regional Parliament will provide a representative institution for the SADC citizenry, thereby serving as a valid interlocutor for the needs and desires of the general public. On the political situation, the SADC welcomed the improving situation in the Kingdom of Lesotho and called upon all stakeholders “to remain committed to the reforms process.” SADC said the recent peace and reconciliation agreement signed in Mozambique is a positive development towards consolidating peace in the region.

The 39th SADC Summit also noted the gravity of security challenges, especially on terrorism activities and transnational organized crime, and urged Member States to prioritize the implementation of the SADC Regional Counter Terrorism Strategy.
Inside SADC

This golden generation of selfless leaders such as the founding presidents of Tanzania, Zambia and Botswana, namely Julius Nyerere, Kenneth Kaunda and Seretse Khama, respectively, sacrificed the economic freedom of their countries to ensure that the rest of the region achieved political independence. Nyerere had to bear the greatest burden of freeing Africa by hosting the Liberation Committee of the Organisation of African Unity (OAU) now the African Union (AU), and accommodating liberation fighters in his country, providing them with logistics, training and diplomatic support.

He said Tanzania as chair of SADC, the country will uphold the ideals of the founding fathers and strive towards deepening regional integration. Kabudi said SADC must continue to work together in its efforts to industrialise its economy and create more jobs for its citizens. He said unity in numbers is critical as no country has progressed without the help of others.

“We are aware no country in the world has reached high economic and social development without having developed and advanced industrial sector,” he said, adding that: “We are also mindful that no country has done that on its own without the help, cooperation and assistance of other countries.”

“However, such advanced industrial sector cannot be achieved if we in the SADC region do not take deliberate efforts to create a conducive environment.”

In this regard, he said Tanzania, as chair of SADC, will focus on creating and improving the business environment for the region to industrialise its economy. Outgoing SADC Council chair Netumbo Nandi-Ndaitwah concurred, saying industrialisation is a priority for the region.

“Industrialisation remains at the core of the integration agenda of SADC and central to the diversification of regional economic growth,” said Nandi-Ndaitwah, who is also the Namibian Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of International Relations and Cooperation.

“We, therefore, need to prioritise trade facilitation with regard to infrastructures such roads, rail, harbours, among other.”

SADC Executive Secretary Dr Stergomena Lawrence Tax said southern Africa should continue to work together in achieving its long-standing goals of a united, prosperous and integrated region.

She said since its inception, SADC has made significant progress to advance its integration agenda, but more still needs to be done.

“While noting and celebrating the progress made, we need to redouble our efforts so as to realise the desired results of the SADC industrialisation agenda,” she said.

“The Secretariat remains seized with the implementation of the SADC Industrialisation Strategy and Roadmap seeks to unlock the industrial potential of the region.”

Africa must not be under-ambitious - AfDB President

By Innocent Mbvundula

The President of the African Development Bank (AfDB), His Excellency Dr. Akinwumi Adesina has said Africa, with its capability and potential, must not be under-ambitious to achieve developmental results for its people.

Addressing the 39th SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania on 17 August, 2019, H.E. Dr. Adesina expressed optimism about the future of Africa and the SADC region in particular.

“I see a brighter future for the SADC region: regional railways that link the whole region, regional value chains that will drive competitiveness, special Agro-industrial zones that will transform agriculture into a major business across the region, creating millions of jobs, and regional power pools that will finally solve the energy challenge in the region,” said H.E. Dr Adesina.

The AfDB President pledged the Bank’s full commitment to see the SADC region succeed and realise its ambitions and indicated the Bank’s support for the region’s drive for a more rapid and sustainable economic growth and prosperity for the people.

“The African Development Bank is your trusted partner. We share your vision. We believe in your drive. We are there to help you succeed and realize your ambitions. With your support, the African Development Bank – and myself as its President – stands fully committed to support SADC to achieve even greater developmental results in the coming years,” H.E. Dr Adesina pledged.

He outlined a number of projects supported by the AfDB, which are aimed at promoting SADC regional development and economic growth, such as the INGA Hydropower Project in the Democratic Republic of Congo which, he said, has the potential of over 44,000 megawatts capable of powering the entire SADC region and beyond.

He commended SADC for its long history of progressive-ness and strong bond of unity, fraternity, cooperation and regional integration, tightened decades ago during the struggle for independence and fight against apartheid.

Energy is key for SADC industrialisation - UNECA

By Innocent Mbvundula

The Under Secretary General and Executive Secretary of the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA), Her Excellency Dr Vera Songwe on 17th August 2019 addressed the 39th SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania where she underscored the importance of adequate, clean and sustainable energy as a key ingredient for sustainable and competitive industrialisation.

H.E. Dr Songwe commended the SADC Heads of State and Government for recognising the need to speed up industrial growth in the region as a means to create jobs, enhance opportunities, drive competitiveness and innovation and facilitate sustained economic growth and improved social welfare for the people of the SADC region.

H.E. Dr Songwe called on SADC to address the energy access challenges that continue to hamper efforts for a full and inclusive industrialisation in the region by, among others, bridging the energy access divide between urban and rural areas, while at the same time, addressing some of the institutional challenges which make access to energy difficult. Turning to the 39th SADC Summit theme; A Conducive Environment for Inclusive and Sustainable Industrial Development, Increased Intra-Regional Trade and Job Creation, H.E. Dr Songwe urged the SADC Heads of State and Government to support the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) which seeks to create jobs by increasing productivity, exports and people's prosperity within an expansive market of over 2 billion people and a GDP of over $3 trillion.
The 4th Annual SADC Industrialisation Week

By Innocent Mbvundula

The 4th Annual SADC Industrialisation Week was held at Julius Nyerere International Convention Centre in Dar es Salaam, United Republic of Tanzania from 5th to 9th August 2019. The Conference was officially opened by His Excellency Dr. John Pombe Magufuli, President of the United Republic of Tanzania, and closed by His Excellency Dr. Ali Mohammed Shein, President of Zanzibar and Chairman of the Revolutionary Council. Also in attendance was H.E. Dr. Stergomena Lawrence Tax, Executive Secretary of SADC Secretariat.

The Forum was jointly organised by the Ministry of Industry and Trade, United Republic of Tanzania, the SADC Secretariat, and the SADC Business Council under the theme ‘A Conducive Environment for Inclusive and Sustainable Industrial Development, increased intra-regional trade, and job creation’. The event was hosted in preparation for the 39th Session of SADC Heads of States and Government Summit. Key topics were infrastructure development in Africa and regional value chains. Discussions also focused on SME/Local Development, Gender and Youth; Finance for Infrastructure and Industrialisation; Barriers to Trade and Trade Facilitation; Research, Innovation and Technology development.

Key observations

● SADC is endowed with diverse natural resources, including all the key minerals needed to industrialise. However, the region has not been able to industrialise and achieve structural transformation from commodity-based economies and exporters of raw materials to economies anchored on manufacturing.
● Compared to other regions in the world, intra-regional trade is low in SADC and in Africa. The value of intra-SADC trade has remained low, at only 22% of total SADC trade. SADC should therefore prioritize intra-regional trade.
● Notable challenges of industrialisation include weak project preparation, absence of project preparation funds, dependence on short term financing, weak legal and regulatory frameworks, trade barriers and infrastructure shortcomings. The region must address infrastructure, shortcomings, mitigate trade barriers, promote regional innovation and research development to industrialise.
● Private and public sector were urged to work together. In this regard, the SADC Business Council was launched as the overarching regional private sector platform to interact with the public sector on matters of regional economic development and industrialisation.
● The SADC Business Council should advocate and partner with Member States to improve the enabling and competitive business environment by engaging regional, national and local policy organs of SADC to the extent that it impacts on regional economic development.
● Private sector to invest in industrialisation. In the same vein, member states were encouraged to play an active role in industrialisation beyond policy stability.
● Investment in research, development and innovation remains low in the region with the majority of member states investing below 1% of Gross Domestic Product for Research and Development to advance competitiveness and industrial development.
● There is a need to upgrade the education system including new technologies, investment in Information, Communication Technology (ICT) infrastructures, Centres of Excellence, Innovation and Industrial Parks in order to leverage the opportunities of the Fourth Industrial Revolution.
● Funding instruments to be established in order to support innovation and technology development.

The SIBE Programme aims at achieving sustainable and inclusive growth and job creation through the transformation of the region into a SADC investment zone, promoting intra-regional investment and Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in the SADC region, in particular for Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs). The Trade Facilitation Programme will contribute to enhancing inclusive economic development in the SADC region through deepening regional economic integration. Finally, the SIPS programme aims to contribute to the SADC industrialisation agenda by improving the performance and growth of selected regional value chains and related services within the agro-processing and pharmaceutical sectors.

Making her remarks following the signing of the three programmes, the SADC Executive Secretary, Her Excellency Dr Stergomena Lawrence Tax noted that the signing of the three agreements reflects the continued partnership between SADC and EU towards enhancing the SADC regional integration and development, particularly at the time when SADC has committed to place the industrialisation at the centre of regional integration.

By Peter Mabaka

Speakers at the SADC Industrialisation Week in Dar es Salaam in the United Republic of Tanzania made a rallying call for women’s economic and political empowerment to effectively participate in regional and international trade and ultimately, help to achieve the African Union Agenda 2063 and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

In one of the sessions which focused on Women Economic and Political Empowerment, the panellists noted that increased gender equality positively affects exports and economic diversification and should be considered a low hanging fruit for its contribution to productivity and competitiveness. The participants noted that trade remains a male-dominated industry, particularly in Africa and that gender inequality persists in almost all the sectors across the SADC region. President of Women of Value South Africa and Managing Director of NKPI Holdings Ms Dimakatso Malwela during her presentation titled; Women Economic Empowerment: Leveraging on the SADC Regional Tourism Value Chain, said through entrepreneurship, women should capitalise on the sector and its value chain to establish and nurture sustainable businesses that can create jobs and alleviate poverty.

Another panellist, the Chief Economic Officer for eCOBBa, in the United Republic of Tanzania, Ms. Irene Kiwia, in her presentation titled “Driving Industrialization via Women SME Access to Financial Inclusion”, opined that while women are producers of food traders, farmers, service providers, lack of capacity, skills and inadequate technologies hampers their ability to enhance their productivity and competitiveness. SADC Summit approves Protocol on Industry
By Innocent Mbvundula

SADC has approved the Protocol on Industry whose main objective is to promote the development of a diversified, innovative and globally competitive regional and national industrial bases to enable the Region to achieve sustainable and inclusive industrial development.

The SADC Summit of Heads of State and Government approved the Protocol after it was reviewed by the SADC Committee of Ministers of Justice/Attorneys General, at its meeting held in Swakopmund in the Republic of Namibia from 1st to 2nd August 2019. The approval of the Protocol on Industry marks an important step in the implementation of the Action Plan for SADC Industrialisation Strategy and Roadmap 2015-2063 which provides a blueprint for inclusive, long-term modernisation and economic transformation in the SADC region.

Once ratified by two-thirds of the SADC Member States, the Protocol will be instrumental in providing a framework for coordinating Member State and regional policies on industrial development to facilitate the implementation of the SADC Industrialisation Strategy and Roadmap.

The Protocol will enhance the level of industrial development both nationally and regionally, facilitating the pursuit of unified goals and ensure cohesion of industrialisation policies and strategies of SADC Member States.

SADC takes steps to empower women groups to integrate them into the value chains. Another panelist, Ms. Tumisang Shamil Agosi, the African Union Youth Representative in Southern Africa said there is a lag between normative frameworks and patriarchal attitudes that drive gender parities in trade and that women and youth continue to be the most vulnerable group in society.

She said the continental free trade agreement presents a huge opportunity of growth for women and youth entrepreneurs, and this calls for governments to seriously take gender mainstreaming in decision making processes. She further urged African governments to introduce regulatory reforms that could make it imperative for financing institutions to commit more resources to women and youth entrepreneurs, thereby ensuring inclusive and better access to financing. The panel discussion was aimed at exploring ways of improving women participation in trade and to find ways of overcoming the obstacles that women face in Regional Value Chains and trade. The discussed also focused on exploring ways of including more women in the policy and governance processes.

The meeting was chaired by Mr Jean Baptiste Mubabazi, the Director responsible for Infrastructure and Logistics from Common Market for East and Southern Africa (COMESA) Secretariat in his capacity as the Chairperson of the ISC.

The meeting was attended by officials from COMESA, East African Community (EAC), led by the Director for Infrastructure, Dr Kamugisha Kazaura, and SADC Secretariat, led by the Director of Infrastructure Ms. Mapolao Mokoena. Officials from the Tripartite Transport and Transit Facilitation Programme (TTTFP) Project Management Unit (PMU) and the EU Delegation to Botswana and SADC also participated in the meeting.

The ISC meeting was convened to primarily take stock of the progress on projects/programmes under the Infrastructure Pillar of the Tripartite and the implementation of the resolutions of the First Meeting of the Tripartite Sectoral Ministerial Committee on Infrastructure (TSMCI) and also to prepare reports for the 2nd meeting of the TSMCI scheduled for 28 to 31 October 2019 in Lusaka, Zambia.

In her remarks Ms. Mapolao Mokoena, indicated that significant strides have been made under other Tripartite Pillars such as Trade Facilitation. Ms. Mokoena re-emphasized the importance of Infrastructure Pillar as the bedrock to support and accelerate critical pillars of the economy, such as the Industrialisation Pillar. Ms. Mokoena urged the Tripartite parties to strengthen their efforts to mobilise resources for Tripartite infrastructure development. She indicated that the TTF has established a Resource Mobilisation Sub-committee that is presently developing a Draft Resource Mobilisation Strategy. On the sidelines of the ISC, a TTF resource mobilisation meeting was held with the World Bank for the Nacala and Beira Development Corridor.

The meeting made the following recommendations:

TTTFP: Draft agreements such as the Vehicle Load Management Agreement (VLMA) and the Multilateral Cross Border Road Transport Agreement (MCRBTA) and several draft model laws have been recommended for adoption and implementation. The draft agreements seek to provide the legal basis to harmonize road transport laws, policies, regulations and standards across 25 continental member states of COMESA, EAC and SADC. The objective is to reduce the costs and time for cross border road transport operations and to protect the massive investment that governments have put in constructing and maintaining regional roads.

Energy: The ISC meeting reviewed the decisions from the previous TSMIC meeting. Each REC presented a progress on development of the energy infrastructure projects that will lead to integration of the mainland Member States in COMESA, EAC and SADC mainly through the Zambia-Tanzania-Kenya (ZTK) transmission project which is aimed at connecting the SADC Southern African Power Pool (SAPP) network to the COMESA/EAC Eastern African Power Pool (EAPP) network. The meeting also reviewed progress on the development of Batoka Hydroelectric Scheme which is designed to generate 2400 Megawatts (MW) to supply Zambia and Zimbabwe as well as the INGA III Hydropower plant aimed to supply 5000 MW power to South Africa and other COMESA, EAC and SADC Member States to enhance security of energy supply in the three RECs.

The meeting further reviewed progress on project supported by the European Union through the 11th European Development Fund (EDF) on Enhancement of a Sustainable Regional Energy Markets (ESREM) for Eastern Africa, Southern Africa and Indian Ocean (EA-SA-I0) region. ESREM is supporting the sub-regions by strengthening and enhancing capacity of energy regulators in the three RECs. The ESREM project is also helping to replicate the SADC Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency Strategy and Action Plan (REESAP) to other RECs to increase sustainable utilisation of renewable energies and promotion of energy efficiency in line with the Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) number 7.

ICT: The Regional Indicative Programme (RIP) for Eastern Africa, Southern Africa and Indian Ocean (EA-SA-I0) whose overall objective is to contribute to the deepening of regional integration by contributing to the growth of the ICT sector to strengthen trade, economic and social ties is awaiting final approval under the 11th EDF.

The Duly Mandated Regional Organisations (DMROs) will meet in early November 2019 in Lusaka, Zambia to prepare the budget and work programme to expedite implementation once final approval is granted in the last quarter of 2019. The long-awaited Missing Links and Infrastructure Sharing Study would now be undertaken under the ICT RIP 11th EDF Programme.
SADC Secretariat participates at the 7th Tokyo International Conference on African Development

The Southern African Development Community (SADC) participated at the seventh Tokyo International Conference on African Development (TICAD7) held under theme ‘Advancing Africa’s Development through People, Technology and Innovation’ in Yokohama, Japan, on 28 to 30 August 2019.

The government of Japan has been hosting the Tokyo International Conference on African Development since 1993. The Conference is co-organised by United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), World Bank and African Union Commission (AUC). The objectives of TICAD7 were to accelerate economic transformation and improve business environment through innovation and private sector engagement; deepen sustainable and resilient society; and to strengthen peace and stability.

The TICAD7 was hosted by the Government of Japan led by the Prime Minister of Japan, H.E. Shinzo Abe, and attended by delegates who included Heads of State and Government, delegations of Japan, representatives of African Union Member States, representatives of Intergovernmental organizations, regional economic communities (RECs), partner countries, as well as the private sector and civil society organizations from Japan and Africa.

All SADC Member States were represented at the Conference with Angola, Comoros, DRC, Lesotho, Madagascar, Mauritius, Mozambique, Namibia, Seychelles, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe represented by their Excellency, Heads of State and Government while Eswatini and United Republic of Tanzania were represented by Prime Ministers; Malawi by Vice-President and Botswana by the Foreign Minister.

The SADC Secretariat was represented by Director of Social and Human Development, Ms Duduzile Simelane, Acting Director of Industrial Development and Trade, Mr. Callicious Tutalife, the Senior Programme Officer for Disaster Risk Reduction Ms Sithembiso Gina and the Senior Programme Officer for Food Security and Agriculture, Mr. Duncan Samikwa.

• commended the efforts of the African Union and its Member States in deepening economic integration as shown by entry into force of the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) and encouraged African Union (AU) Member States to create an enabling environment for private sector and civil society involvement, including small and medium enterprises in economies so as to achieve the SDGs.

• noted that Africa has the youngest population in the world, therefore, countries need to create decent jobs for the youth and women while taking into account technological advances that are changing business flows and transformations. Africa must reap the demographic dividend provided by its young people by empowering and equipping them with skills and capacities from the early years to develop and harness science, technology and innovation as highlighted in the newly launched African Union Gender Strategy and the African Union Demographic Dividend Road Map.

• committed to taking advantage of Africa’s opportunities for transformation brought by its large untapped sources of renewable energy, arable land, and natural resources that could be used to propel socio-economic and transformation.

• committed to supporting agricultural transformation through promoting better quality, higher-value products, and developing food value chains through the Comprehensive Africa Agriculture Development Programme (CAADP). Such an approach will improve food security and livelihoods and accelerate Africa’s economic growth and diversification, given that more than half of the continent’s population is dependent on agriculture and agri-business.

• recognized the importance of the blue economy in harnessing the full economic potential of the oceans, seas, lakes, rivers and other water resources central to sustainable development. It underscored the need to galvanize bilateral, regional and international stakeholders’ collaboration in maritime security including the fight against piracy, illegal, unreported and unregulated fishing and other maritime crimes, and maintaining a rule-based maritime order in accordance with the principles of international law.

REPUBLIC OF ZIMBABWE

August 11: Heroes Day is the day celebrated to honor the heroes of the nation, who have scarified their life or have done something great for the nation. It is usually the day when these national heroes were born or it may be the day of the great deeds done by a person that made them heroes. Zimbabwe celebrates Heroes Day on August 11 in order to pay homage to the great personality who struggled hard and ultimately sacrificed their life in the country liberation war. So, it is very important to know what made some of them the national heroes.

It was on July, 1978 evening that 20 Zanla freedom fighters came at Mapira village in Mhondoro equipped with weapons like AK-47 sub-machine guns and RPD light machine guns. This made the villagers astonished, as it was the first time they had seen such weapons. Arrival of the group marked the beginning of the war in parts of Mhondoro by Zanla the freedom fighters. The struggle for the liberation between Zanla, military wing of ZANU and Zipra, the military wing of Zapu, had rose in some areas like Chiweshe, Chipinge and Hurungwe. These freedom fighters gave their introduction to the villagers at a meeting held by them. These fighters have volunteered themselves to fight against the racist Smith regime. Smith regime was the one, which forced itself upon black native Zimbabweans. They even said about the racial discrimination, which was being down between the white and the Blacks.

REPUBLIC OF TANZANIA

Nane Nane Day on 8 August celebrates to recognize the important contribution of farmers to the national Tanzanian economy. Nane Nane means “eight eight” in Swahili, the national language of Tanzania (and of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, the two countries whose union created the United Republic of Tanzania in 1964).

Nane Nane also may refer to the Agricultural Exhibition, a one-week fair that takes place every year around this date [8/8] in varying locations of Tanzania. In the Nane Nane Agricultural Exhibition, farmers and other agricultural stakeholders (e.g., universities and research institutes, input suppliers or fertilizer producing industries) showcase new technologies, ideas, discoveries and alternative solutions concerning the agricultural sector. Nane Nane is a fair where government and private firms present their services and activities to the public.

Every year the national Nane Nane show takes place in different locations, for example in Ngongo, Lindi Region (2014), while there are also regional Nane Nane shows held in seven zones, namely in Arusha for Northern Zone; Eastern in Morogoro; Lake in Mwanza; Highlands in Mbeya; Southern in Lindi, Mtwara or Songea; Western in Tabora; and Central in Dodoma.

REPUBLIC OF NAMIBIA

Heroes’ Day is a national public holiday in Namibia. It is recognized by the United Nations as Namibia Day. Celebrated annually on 26 August, the day commemorates the Namibian War of Independence which began on 26 August 1966 at Omugulugwombashe.

In 1966 the United Nations General Assembly revoked South Africa’s mandate to govern South West African territory and placed it under direct UN administration. South Africa refused to recognize this resolution. South West Africa People’s Organization (SWAPO) at that time prepared for armed resistance and founded its armed wing, the People’s Liberation Army of Namibia (PLAN) in 1962. Many of its erstwhile commanders were in exile but PLAN began to infiltrate the north of Namibia to establish training camps. Omugulugwombashe was one such training camp, established in June 1966 by PLAN commander John Ya Otto Nankudhu. The group under Nankudhu had just started to build defensive structures and planned to train about 90 soldiers there.

DISASTER RISK REDUCTION (DRR):
The SADC Region has not been spared from disasters and its dire consequences. As such, SADC recognises that the Africa Union (AU) Programme of Action on DRR, the Sendai Framework and SADC Regional DRR strategies are instrumental in safeguarding the regional development goals and aspirations. The SADC Regional Disaster Preparedness and Response Strategy and Fund (2016 -2030) seeks to build a culture of safety and disaster resilience by strengthening the preparedness and response for early recovery.
