- 1.1 The Procuring Entity named in the Data Sheet will select a firm/eligible institution among those listed in the Letter of Invitation, in accordance with the procurement method indicated in the Data Sheet, method detailed in the edition of the Guidelines indicated in the Data Sheet.
- 1.2 The shortlisted Bidders are invited to submit a Technical Proposal and a Financial Proposal for global price services required for the assignment named in the Data Sheet and presented in details in the Terms of Reference attached as Section 5 of this Bidding Documents. The proposal and the Terms of Reference will be the basis for contract for a signed contract with the successful firm.
- 1.3 The assignment shall be implemented in accordance with the phasing indicated in the Data Sheet. When the assignment includes several phases, the performance of the Bidder under each phase must be to the Procuring Entity's satisfaction before work begins on the next phase.
- 1.4 The Bidders must familiarize themselves with local conditions and take them into account in preparing their proposals. To obtain firsthand information on the assignment and on the local conditions, Bidders are encouraged to request the Procuring Entity to provide further information before submitting a proposal and to attend a pre-bid conference if one is specified in the Data Sheet. Attending the pre-proposal conference is optional. The Bidders' representative should contact the Procuring Entity at the address stated in the Data Sheet or to obtain additional information on the pre-bid conference.

- 1.5 The Procuring Entity will provide the inputs specified in the Data Sheet, assist the firm in obtaining licenses and permits needed to carry out the services, and make available relevant project data and reports.
- 1.6 Please note that (i) the costs of preparing the proposal are not reimbursable as a direct cost of the assignment; and (ii) the Procuring Entity is not bound to accept any of the proposals submitted.

- 1.7.2 Since previous or ongoing participation in relation to the assignment by the Bidder, its professional staff, or its affiliates or associates under a contract with the SADC Secretariat and Procuring Entity may result in rejection of the proposal, the bidders should clarify their situation in that respect with the Procuring Entity before preparing the proposal.
- 1.7.3 Bidders may be hired for downstream work, when continuity is essential, in which case this possibility shall be indicated in the Data Sheet and the factors used for the selection of the Bidder should take the likelihood of continuation into account. It will be the exclusive decision of the Procuring Entity whether or not to have the downstream assignment carried out, and if it is carried out, which Bidder will be hired for the purpose.

1.0 BACKGROUND INFORMATION

1.1 Partner country and procuring entity

Southern African Development Community (SADC)

1.2 Country background

The Southern African Development Community (SADC) is a Regional Economic Community comprising 16 Member States, namely; Angola, Botswana, Comoros, Democratic Republic of Congo, Eswatini, Lesotho, Madagascar, Malawi, Mauritius, Mozambique, Namibia, Seychelles, South Africa, United Republic of Tanzania, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Established in 1992, SADC is committed to Regional Integration and poverty eradication within Southern Africa through economic development and ensuring peace and security.

The overall goal for infrastructure development in SADC is to achieve efficient, seamless, integrated and cost-effective cross-boundary infrastructure networks and services that will enable economic development, regional integration and poverty alleviation in the region. The guiding strategic framework is the Regional Indicative Strategic Development Plan (RISDP), which draws its mandate from the SADC Treaty. Implementation of the aspirations of the RISDP in the infrastructure sector is guided by the Regional Infrastructure Development Master Plan (RIDMP), which contains the implementation philosophy. The RIDMP was adopted in 2012 for the sole purpose of guiding the region's infrastructure development and rehabilitation programme up to 2027.

Focus areas of the RIDMP are on policy, regulatory and institutional mechanism development, reform and harmonisation. These manifest in the development, construction, maintenance and rehabilitation of regional infrastructure networks through the implementation of Action Plans of the RIDMP. The first phase of the infrastructure development plan known as the Short-Term Action Plan (STAP I) ran from 2012 to 2018. A study to assess the implementation of STAP I was concluded in August 2019. The second phase has continued from 2022 to 2027 known as STAP II. Some challenges that RIDMP seeks to address include the following:

- (i) Insufficient energy supply to serve increased production, and limited access to energy by the population;
- (ii) Highly priced, unpredictable transport and logistics services, especially for landlocked states that continue to face transit facilitation across other nations and borders;
- (iii) Lack of low-cost access to ICTs;
- (iv) Inadequate meteorological services for effective and efficient planning and management of water resources, energy production, transport services and other climate-sensitive sectors;
- (v) Unacceptably high number of citizens without access to safe drinking water, adequate sanitation, and water for irrigation to improve systems for agricultural production which will contribute to food security; and,
- (vi) Slow response to new tourism trends and opportunities.

Furthermore, SADC Member States recognise that a robust infrastructural network will create the requisite capacity for sustained economic growth, industrialisation and development. Currently the region has a huge infrastructure deficit characterised by insufficient energy supply, inadequate water supply, reticulation and sanitation systems, inadequate and expensive broadband networks and an unreliable transport network, among other deficiencies. To achieve substantial structural transformation, Africa needs to focus on strategic investments in key Sustainable Development Goal areas such as energy, productivity-enhancing technology and innovation, and productive transport infrastructure. The financing gap for these investments is vast, estimated at about US$402 billion annually until 2030, and will require scaling up domestic resource mobilization and fostering private sector investment according to estimates by the African Development Bank (AfDB), published in its African Economic Outlook, 2024.

1.3 Current situation in the sector

Regional institutions have been created in areas such as river basins, transport corridors, power pools, Information and Communications Technology (ICT), meteorology, and regional regulatory oversight organizations. The Regional Organisations take cognizance of the requisite capacity development needs for design, development, implementation, maintenance and operations of regional infrastructure networks, programs and projects.

To deliver on the mandate of infrastructure development and industrialisation, strategic drivers are developed to facilitate and coordinate the transformation of the region into an integrated economy using infrastructure as a vehicle to support regional integration and poverty alleviation, which are the main goals of the SADC Treaty and the RISDP 2020-2030. In relation to improved energy infrastructure development, the region will benefit from diversified energy mix for power generation while development of natural gas facilities such as pipelines and storage facilities will contribute toward job creation, productivity and economic growth. Improved water infrastructure delivery will help improve access to water and sanitation which will contribute to poverty reduction and development in the region. Transboundary water infrastructure also helps in peace and stability of riparian states that could arise from insecurities from negative hydro-politics. Improved transport infrastructure will contribute to the regional integration agenda of SADC with increased connectivity and support to the transport priority corridors of SADC. This will also address the lack of an integrated and liberalized road transport market with other regional economic groups such as the East and Southern African regions, which poses numerous obstacles to trade by causing severe delays and increased transport costs, as well as challenges to road safety and durability. Deployment of climate-resilient ICT infrastructure will enable the attainment of universal and meaningful connectivity for all SADC citizens leaving no one behind in terms of ICT services through systems that are affordable, safe, efficient, resilient, high quality, modern, ubiquitous and fully integrated to meet the diverse requirements of SADC Citizens. Furthermore, establishment of universal access to affordable Information Communications Technologies and provision of timely and credible meteorological and climate information including promoting investment in regional infrastructure development play a key role in infrastructure development.

1.4.1 Infrastructure Financing within the SADC Region

SADC has a growing population with an annual growth rate estimated at 2.68% and its current population is estimated at 400 million. It is also projected that by 2050, the majority of countries in Southern Africa will be over 50% urbanised, with Angola and Botswana being over 80% urbanized¹⁰. Growth in the Southern Africa region remained subdued at 1.8% in 2023, a decline from the 2.9% recorded in 2022. This slowdown is attributed to adverse weather conditions, weak global demand and falling commodity prices, as well as electricity shortages and transport constraints. The region compares poorly to the other regions in the continent, except with East Africa which grew at 1.3%. This level of growth falls short of what is necessary to reverse the increase in poverty induced by the COVID-19 pandemic and even more so to put the region back on track to meet the first Sustainable Development Goal (SDG1) which aims to eradicate extreme poverty for all people worldwide by 2030¹¹. However, the October 2025 edition of Africa's Pulse reports that economic growth in Sub-Saharan Africa has maintained momentum amid heightened global policy uncertainty. Following a trough in 2023, regional activity is poised to expand at 3.8% in 2025, up from 3.5% in 2024, and accelerate further to an annual average rate of 4.4% in 2026–27.

To match the performance of high-performing developing countries with similar levels of development, Southern Africa will need an estimated $76.2 billion annually (12% of GDP), until 2030, to accelerate structural transformation. The majority of this investment will be required in road infrastructure followed by education and energy. The region also faces an annual financing gap of approximately $55.4 billion (8 percent of GDP) by 2030 to fast-track its transformation. Mobilizing additional resources domestically will be insufficient to close the gap; the participation of the private sector and other non-state actors will be necessary. However, the private sector remains very risk averse in this region and its participation is relatively limited, especially regarding investment in critical sectors for structural transformation.

Effective and sustainable infrastructural investments are crucial therefore to deal with pressures from increased service demands from these factors as well as predicted future challenges. Severe climate change impacts will also serve to stretch further the available service provision systems. Unfortunately, delivery of infrastructure has so far fallen short to meet the anticipated demands, and the targets for infrastructure according to the RIDMP STAP I assessment report.

The highest-level decision-making bodies of SADC, namely SADC Summit and Council, have noted the need for accelerated infrastructure delivery in the region, and have repeatedly directed the SADC Secretariat to consider better resource mobilization strategies.

The SADC also established the Project Preparation and Development Facility (PPDF) with the aim of assisting SADC Member States to address the implementation of the SADC RIDMP, which will promote and contribute to enhancing regional economic integration in the SADC Region. The purpose of the PPDF funding is to enhance sustainable economic growth and the delivery of project preparation services to create an enabling environment for regional infrastructure development in SADC. PPDF is expected to address, with other cooperating partners in the region, the constraints to infrastructure development in the SADC Region.

1.4.2 SADC Policies and Strategies on Infrastructure Development

SADC has developed several regional strategy instruments governing both the development and security agendas of the region. Key in this regard is the main strategic instrument for SADC the RISDP, which is a 10-year regional integration development framework. The RISDP views infrastructure development as catalytic to the realization of the regional integration and poverty reduction vision of SADC.

A number of supportive strategies have also been developed in the Energy, Water ICT, Meteorology and Transport Sectors of the SADC. All of these, seek to enable implementation of the RISDP and RIDMP priorities. Some of these strategies, in pursuit of the regional drive for increased poverty reduction, regional integration and regional industrialization, aim at pursuing the Water-Energy-Food-Ecosystems Nexus approach in the delivery of regional infrastructure contribution to the regional value chains for accelerated regional industrialization of the SADC region. This also serves as a regional approach to the bigger African vision for the Africa We Want, the African Union Continental Master Plan (CMP), African Single Electricity Market (AfSEM), the SADC Industrialisation Strategy and Roadmap 2015 – 2063 and the global UN Sustainable Development Goals such as SDGs 6, 7, 9, 11 and 13.

At the regional level, also, SADC has produced the regional SADC Vision 2050. The Vision and the RISDP (2020-2030) strategic planning frameworks already provide direction for development focus going into the future in the next ten to twenty years.

1.5 Related programmes and other donor activities

The project is related to the African Union (AU) Programme for Infrastructure Development in Africa (PIDA) which has been developed to reflect Regional Economic Communities (RECs) and Member States (MS) priorities while translating the AU Vision and Agenda 2063 calling for sustainable, inclusive, and world-class infrastructure. It has been developed in line with the Integrated Corridor Approach, which is based on two pillars:

- The corridor planning, which ensures that infrastructure facilities included under PIDA PAP2 complement one another; and

- The integration of social inclusiveness and sustainability features into the planning process to select projects that mirror the AU Vision and maximise the socioeconomic impact for the population.

The programme is also related to other programmes at the continental and regional level such as the energy CMP, the AfSEM, the North South Corridor programme, the Lobito corridor programme, the update of the SAPP Pool Plan, River Basin Organisation water sector projects and programmes.

4.0 SCOPE OF THE WORK

4.1 General

Project description

As mentioned, the RIDMP is the region's blueprint for development of infrastructure programmes and projects for the period 2012 to 2027. It was adopted by the Summit, as the guiding document in the region's infrastructure development and rehabilitation programme up to 2027. It defines and elaborates the implementation of Pillar II of the RISDP 2020 – 2030: Infrastructure development in support of regional integration. The RIDMP focuses on the realisation of SADC Infrastructure Vision 2027 and contributes towards the Industrialization Strategy and Roadmap, Regional Agricultural Policy and its Investment plan, as well as other regional strategic frameworks. The first years (2012-2018) of the RIDMP was denoted as the RIDMP STAP I. A review of STAP I was commissioned to assess progress and status on implementation of infrastructure projects in SADC from 2012 to 2018. The assessment, produced in August 2019, identified challenges in achieving targets set in the STAP I and made recommendations for consideration by SADC Secretariat, Member States, SADC Subsidiary Organisations and Project Preparation Facilities to address the challenges.

The Secretariat, with the support of its regional implementing agencies and SADC Member States, intends to procure Consultancy Services to undertake an assessment of the overall implementation of the RIDMP from 2012 to 2027, taking into consideration the RIDMP STAP I assessment report and the re-prioritised RIDMP STAP II.
